"If I can help somebody as I pass along, If I can cheer somebody with a or song, If I can show somebody he's traveling wrong, then my living not be in vain." -Alma B. Androzso 1945

What my illustration of Martin Luther King, Jr. means is that anyone should be willing to stand up for what they believe in; A life should have a purpose and be worth living. As Elie Wiesel once said, "First they came for the socialists, and I did not speak out – because I was not a socialist. Then they came for the trade unionist, and I did not speak out – because I was not a trade unionist. Then they came for the Jews, and I did not speak out – because I was not a Jew. Then they came for me – and there was no one left to speak for me." If no one spoke out for anyone, the world would be a horrible place, but it isn't. Luckily, people are there for others just as Martin Luther King, Jr. or Elie Wiesel were. My hope is to be a mentor or support for my community and school.
