My piece of art is about the differences between injustice and equality, two major themes facing society today. Martin Luther King, Jr. envisioned a world of equality, similar to the section on the left hand side of the drawing. His vision planted a seed of love, which would hopefully one day sprout into a coexistent society. He battled injustice and hate, which are portrayed on the right hand side. The dark background and red highlights illustrate the destructive nature of hate. To help my community, I am using pieces of art, such as this one, to bring awareness to current day issues. Which side will you choose?
